

Athletic Counseling Services

P&A's athletic counseling services begin with an Athletic Consultation Package that assesses a student's candidacy for college athletics and provides guidance on where to direct the student's search. The package includes up to three hours of athletic counseling services.

After the initial consultation, student athletes can enroll in a comprehensive Athletic Counseling Package that provides up to eight hours of athletic counseling and includes the following services:

- Detailed assessment of academic and athletic strengths
- Evaluation of candidacy for athletic scholarships
- Assistance with applying to schools and attracting college athletic recruiters
- Recommendations for Division I, II, or III programs that best fit client's needs and goals
- Advice regarding the following recruitment processes:
  - NCAA recruitment procedures, rules, deadlines, and policies
  - NCAA Eligibility Center and related policies for student athletes
  - Athletic-admissions rubrics including the Ivy League Academic Index
- Recommendations for engagement in athletic camps, clinics, and showcases
- Development of strategies for coach-to-coach contact
- Creation of athletic resumes and cover letters for athletic coaches
- Guidance for generating film highlight packages
- Review of athletic and admission offers from colleges

Note: Athletic counseling services may only be purchased in conjunction with a college counseling package.
